56,944 Vote for National Socialist!

Arthur Jones, America's only openly pro-white Congressional candidate, received 56,944 votes in the heavily Democratic 3rd Congressional District of Illinois during last week's midterm elections - horrifying the establishment, and highlighting how many votes stable pro-white candidates across the country might have won had there been such an organization in place.

Here is a report from THE NEW OBSERVER.

Although Jones was never going to win the seat - his opponent won 158,161 votes, and the district encompasses the west and southwest

The Course of the Year

Since ancient times our ancestors revered the sun as the source of warmth and life. Like a gold disk it stood above them, like a wheel it rolled across the canopy of the heavens.

The course of each day is determined by it, and its path of wandering is again a great circle. It crosses the sky first in a wide arch, then in a small arch. About six in the morning it stands in its course in the east, around twelve in the south, around eighteen in the west, around twenty-four in the summer of the far north the midnight sun completes its daily orbit.

Long ago did our ancestors set the course of the whole year as marks of a circle. That was the old wheel calendar that could be read on the horizon. On the winter solstice in the arctic north, the sun only appears for a short time at the southern point, but on the summer solstice it stands at the northern point. The connection of these points divides the face circle as north-south line. In our latitudes the point of sunrise on the solstices lies in the southeast and in the northeast – the point of sunset in the southwest and in the northwest. The connections divide the already cut-in-half circle again into the shape of an “x”. That produces the ancient six-spoked wheel, and without the wreath, “the Hagal rune”.

From the far north our ancestors brought along an experience that for all time, but especially for us who have again become conscious of the old legacy, is of the greatest significance. The ancestors made the following discovery: summer and winter fought with each in the north in unprecedented opposition as the forces of light and of darkness. The dark winter in its severity and length seemed to triumph over the short, meager summer. And yet, the sun came back despite the power of winter year after year. If its return were not to be expected with irrefutable certainty, then it would have meant certain death for Nordic men. Without grief and distress, the people observed how with the advance of summer the daily arch of the sun became ever smaller. The sun became weak. It shined dull. It aged. The visible daily arch became so small at Yule that the sun only appeared for a few hours, then it sank into the cold North Sea that shimmered on the horizon. On the mid-winter day, however, it came to pass that the sun no longer became visible at all. It had been devoured by the sea as if by a monster, or the mountains on the horizon had pulled it down to them. It had died and lay in its grave. The question, whether the sun would now remain there, was synonymous with the shocking question of the people: “Will we die along with it?”

On the mid-winter day, however, the miracle also took place: The sun rose again from its winter grave. It was born anew like a child, gained strength, and showed itself to the waiting people who rejoiced at the first sparse reappearance as if they themselves had had life given back to them. This great event repeated itself each year. And each year they celebrated it as their greatest holiday, and their salvation of Christmas holiday. In the Yule night they then approached the young sun with torches in order to help liberate it from the bonds of winter death. They imagined a young hero who had awakened it from its death sleep and liberated it. Now they celebrated as often as they could the ever growing strength of the sun. The bright fires blazed high on the spring day when

On November 10, 2018, the NATIONAL SOCIALIST MOVEMENT (NSM) held a public rally on the steps of the Capitol building in Little Rock, Arkansas. Here is their Action Report:

Our message of truth brought attention to the white genocide occurring in South Africa while calling out the negative Zionist influences in our nation and abroad. Speakers included (not in specific order): Commander Jeff Schoep, Chief of Staff Burt Colucci, Chief of Security Mike Schloer, PR Director/Region 11 Director Harry Hughes, Tennessee State Leader Kynan Dutton, and the Director of Community Outreach Matthew Heimbach. A representative of the Aryan Nations also spoke at the event. Various other organizations were represented there at the rally. Our message as a whole was superbly conveyed by our speakers.

The Antifa/Communist presence was hardly worth mentioning and the protesters were by far of the “third string” category. Noise from the Antifa/protester crowd was easily out matched by our formidable new audio equipment and PA system/speakers. Our entry and egress was efficient and flawless. With a security checkpoint upon entrance all weapons were checked and in compliance with Arkansas state laws.

Post rally we gathered for fellowship and camaraderie. Donations were taken up for political prisoner Jacob Goodwin. The event concluded with an Odal rune lighting. Commander Schoep gave a small speech on our Folk and the traditions that go along with the lighting of the Odal Rune. The lighting was executed as a symbol of our ancestry and our organization. It is a true tribute to our heritage and is an awe inspiring sight for all those present.

Thank you to all who attended and contributed to a more than worthy cause. Special thanks to COS Burt for his diligent planning and coordination with local authorities. Thank you to all our speakers and to our Security Squad. We look forward to seeing even more of our party members, supporters and like minded Pro-Whites join us at our next event.

Adolf Hitler's Mein Kampf caused a Jewish outcry in Macedonia when photos of piles of copies of the National Socialist leader's book - on display at a publishing company's stand at the Skopje Book Fair from May 3-9 - were posted online, sparking largely negative reactions from Jews, leftists and liberals. But Adolf Hitler's autobiography can also be found on the shelves of Macedonian supermarkets, selling for about 300 denars (about five euros).

Thousands of copies have been sold since the first Macedonian edition was published in 2005, claimed Nikola Kostas, the founder of publishing house Gjurgja, which issued the translation.

"The first edition is from 2005 and was printed in 1,000 copies. As it was being sold, new ones were printed. In 2011 we published it in two volumes, just like the original. Both were in 1,000 copies and were also sold, so we printed more," Kostas said.

"I have no record of every copy sold, but it is still one of the most requested books," he added.

suburbs of Chicago as far as the DuPage County border, as well as a portion of the southwest side of the city of Chicago—the number of votes he obtained demonstrates that there is an appetite for his sort of platform among white Americans.

Although - of course - slandered and smeared by the controlled media internationally as a "neo-Nazi," Jones's platform upon which he ran evidently held great attraction for thousands of voters.

His main leaflet for the election listed his issues as follows:

* Build The Wall!

* Bring Our Troops Home NOW to Defend Our Borders!

* No More "Sanctuary Cities"!

* No Amnesty for Illegal Aliens!

* Make English the Official Language!

* Flat Tax of 10% YES; Progressive Income Tax NO!

* Repeal Obamacare; Affordable Health Care for Americans Only!

* Pro Life YES; Homosexual Marriage and Adoption of Children by Homosexuals NO!

* Term Limits for All Federal Judges!

Over 200,000 nationalists participated in the Polish Annual Independence Day rally in Warsaw. This was far more than in the previous year. Warsaw's leftist mayor tried to ban the event, but the ban was overturned by the court.

* Repeal Treasonous Trade Treaties, such as NAFTA or the 11 Nation Trans Pacific Partnership!

* Gun Owner's Rights, including Concealed Carry for Personal Protection

* Passage of the Neighborhood Amendment to Prevent the Destruction of Our Schools and Neighborhoods by Aggressive Gangs and Drug Dealers!

The reverse of his leaflet dealt with US aid to Israel as follows:

SUPPORT FOR ISRAEL?

Shown below is an image of the Virgin Mary which an Israeli Army tank fired upon on March 14 2002

This is what racist criminal Zionist Israel thinks of Christians. An Israeli tank fired away at this statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary on top of a Catholic Church in Bethlehem hitting her 69 times and in the process mutilating her face and blowing off her hands. To hit that statue, the Israeli gunner had to elevate the machine gun up towards the statue. So it was no accident!

This deliberate attack on a Christian Church in the city where Jesus Christ was born symbolizes the extreme hatred of Jews for Christians, whether they be in the land of Palestine (now known as Israel, since 1948) or right here in the United States. In fact, the Jews have been waging a war of genocide against both Christians and Muslims in Palestine since 1948. The facts are these: since 1961, Israel has killed thousands of Christians and Muslims: destroyed thousands of homes, hospitals, Churches, Mosques, schools and built Jewish settlements on land stolen from Palestinians.

All of these war crimes against the Christians and Muslims of Palestine have been financed by our government with our tax dollars. Visit this website: ifarmericansknew.org, and you will learn the truth about our so-called ally Isralength of day and length of night are the same, and when one could say that the liberation of the sun by the young hero had finally been completed. Again, fires of joy blazed above the triumph of light and life in the mid-summer night when the sun had won the greatest victory, made the biggest arch across the globe, allowing the night only a few hours of rule. This holiday was the high time of the year. Man owed it the harvest of his fields. Hence the harvest time became the holiday of the year. After it, however, the sun quickly lost strength, its arch became smaller, it approached death in the mid-winter night anew, a death from which in accordance to ancient law life again emerged.

Already in the Nordic and ancient Germanic times of our folk, people could not do enough to depict this experience of the sun's death in hundreds of forms as stories. We are so fortunate to possess more of these oldest cultural goods of our ancestors than many from later periods. The sun experience is the object of almost all of our pre-Christian fairy tales that the Grimm brothers collected for us a hundred years ago, carefully wrote down and hence saved. The sun king's daughter, killed by a winter-like power, is brought back to new life by a young hero: that is the core that in each of these fairy tales, which is always again in the most wonderful manner broadened and modified.

However, man also saw the same law of "death and rebirth" manifested all round in the whole of nature. The annual course of the sun also determined the annual rhythm of all living things, of the animals and of the plants. Yes, their whole life followed the laws of being young and getting old, of death and rebirth. So, too, did man walk along his own life: he was subject to the fate of death and became radiant through the certainty of life. The man of the north was conscious of having received his own life from the womb of a human being certain to die. In the knowledge of his destiny to die, he passed it along. That was the deepest core of his worldview.

What he saw on the large-scale in the course of the sun, he most clearly saw return on the small-scale in his forests. Hence the tree was sacred to him. He imagined the whole universe supported by a mighty tree with roots, trunk and canopy of leaves and structured so. It is the old World Ash-Tree of which the Edda reports. Along its eternity glides the law of death and becomes an ongoing process of renewal. It is the great order in the eternal rhythm. Therefore, in all annual holidays of Nordic man, there is, next to the sun-wheel and fire, the tree as holiday symbol. In the fairy tales we often read of the life-tree that grows on the grave of the mother and, giving blessing, protects young life.

el and many other documented facts no politician or news organization dares to reveal.

Jones's election website also contains photographs of himself speaking at National Socialist Movement rallies, earlier campaigns, and a section devoted to discussing "hate speech" (featuring Abraham Lincoln's quotes on black inferiority and the need to remove them from America) and the holocaust (described as a "racket") - all this showing that there can be little doubt about his openness about his views or the political positions he holds.

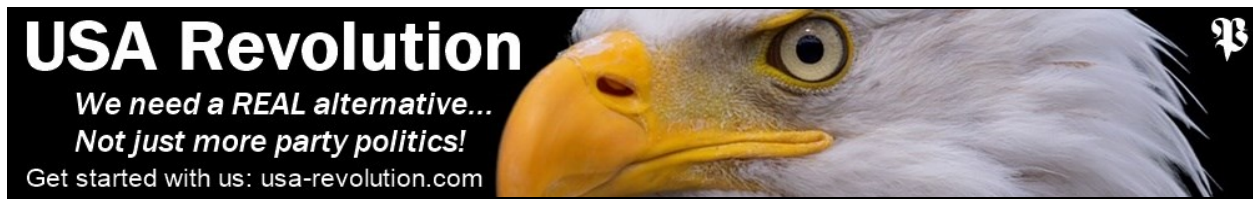

The fact that Jones could poll 56,944 votes in one congressional district with such a platform in a strongly Democratic area, and get 26 percent of the vote (or one-third of the winning candidate's vote) is a sure indication that this type of platform, if organized properly, would likely poll in the millions if replicated across America.
